Let's spread the love of reading in the community! The Charity Shop in Reading is excited to announce the 10th Reading Camp. Any high school students who live in Hà Nội can help in our camp. The opening ceremony will take place next Sunday, 7 December, from 09.00–11.00 in the morning. Volunteers should show up at 14 Đinh Tiên Hoàng Street. There will be a free parking space there and each volunteer will have a free breakfast before we open the Reading Camp. The camp has already been set up and all you need to do is to control the activities in different smaller camps after having some training.

We are looking for 4–5 customer service volunteers for each task. Tasks may include:

Raising money for the Reading Camp fund. Our aim is to collect enough money from the visitors to run this event next year and give away books to street children and those who live in orphanages.

Receiving book donations from visitors who will come to Hàng Khay Street. Your job is to receive books from visitors and give some advice on their book purchasing if necessary.

The Reading Camp Tour needs volunteers to lead the book tours along Lê Thái Tổ Street. There will be a guidebook and you will be trained before the tours begin. You just need to love books and can introduce some of them to the visitors.
